When a player gets three cautions (yellow cards) in different matches during the competition (groups, round of 16 and quarter-finals), that player is suspended for the next match. After the suspension, the player starts a new cycle from zero. The single cautions from the matches within the competition expire on completion of the Quarter-finals. Teams that compete in the placement matches (9^o - 24^o) will have the single cautions removed after the group matches.
